

Leon Trotsky - Permanent Revolution, Results and Prospects and finally Working Class Strikes (1921 - 2024)

By Leon Trotsky (edited in the future)

I. Imagine a Leninist Dual Power (Sirohi on converting the TU to a phalanx), 2024

From the formal conversion of the class-in-itself to a for-itself the formal change in the TU to a council is all that had to be done within the general working class spontaneity in the earlier period of the Indian revolution. Just mark the committee of struggling workers with a dash, in fact an absolute dash in the form of the committee and unionising attempts of the Turin type spontaneous struggles of the workers. Imagine that to then take place - it has all thrown up councils in the working class areas of India and become then forced into a strike as a one site policy in the major industrial area, and this forms a general strike scenario modelled on Petrograd Soviets, not Mao's liberated zones.

II. Imagine then a Trotskyist Permanent Revolution (Current class action in India), 2024

From the perspective of such comments by Sirohi, now imagine his praxis formalism - just form a line and a few lines by speculative noticing and disciplining of the working class - just imagine that the working class is sent a mass line that they have to form into a general strike - imagine its logic is simply a formalism called - permanent strike revolution - that they form into a committee in each area and set off a demonstration after demonstration and then form into a Commune power. This then is called by Sirohi a Party based on Paris Commune and then to our period Shanghai Commune of Chinese 1967 strikes.

III. Results and Prospects, Permanent Revolution - a Thesis on the General Insurrection of the Working Class - 1914.

First a mass action, then spontaneous fusion and then insurrection based on party line.
